ROATIA Full of life

Dear colleagues and associates,

A comprehensive who's-who and an inevitable outlet for promoting both Croatia and the Association of Croatian Travel Agencies (UHPA), the UHPA Directory has become an international staple for travel professionals no matter the occasion. Whether you are looking for sector go-to contacts, appreciating our selection of sleek destinations or familiarizing yourself with country profile specifics, the 22nd edition of the UHPA Directory has it all.

One could say that no one knows Croatia better than UHPA – our members craft an enviable number of services and products into unique experiences by combining our country's exceptional diversity and the interests of well-meaning individuals for its rich history, culture and abundant natural beauty. In a year where travel restrictions, border closures and safety protocols dominated day-to-day operations, this artistry was no easy feat. Travel has participated in forming our globalised way of life perhaps more than any other aspect of modern living which is why the challenges brought on by an unprecedented pandemic posed a threat to the livelihoods of so many in the field, including out master travel artisans.

One of the rare upsides of a difficult time such as the one upon us right now is that it inevitably brings people together - UHPA has been no exception. Relying on their trade representatives for support, members have come to appreciate our immediate exchanges and we have come to appreciate, now perhaps more than ever, exactly how essential they are to the overall travel ecosystem. Fully aware of the value of this earned trust, UHPA will continue down the same path and our initiatives will always correspond with the concerns raised in those immediate exchanges. This intense dynamic, in our 30th year of advocacy, is our driving force.

Throughout this crisis, as Croatia's leading association of travel professionals, on all matters travel related, UHPA has been an anchor - for its members, their clients and the public in general. We maintained our role in bringing to light the problems facing travel organizers and participated in official initiatives to recover and reinvent tourism. Going forward, our primary mission and most prominent goal is to re-build its global, universal strength and remedy the weaknesses magnified by the pandemic. Our focus must be to bring innovation to life and to seize this once in a lifetime opportunity to shape the future of our profession, leaving behind broken processes and failed practices, and instead introducing new, functional ones. We at UHPA are strongly committed to building a more resilient and sustainable tourism, relying on individual strengths coming together as one to bring about a better tomorrow.

I sincerely hope this edition of our UHPA Directory brings you a little closer to our country and to working with Croats, your trusted travel artisans. We wish you good health and a world of success in the coming year!

→ Foreword

Dear colleagues and tourism industry employees,

It is with great pleasure that I greet you on behalf of the Croatian National Tourist Board on the occasion of the 22nd edition of the UHPA Directory.

After two years of coexistence with the global pandemic, which has significantly affected global tourism trends, the very good tourism results achieved this year provide great satisfaction, while positioning our country as a leading tourist destination on the Mediterranean. Namely, during the first nine months Croatia has achieved 12.6 million arrivals and more than 80 million overnight stays, which compared to the same period last year represents a growth of 71 percent in arrivals and 53 percent in overnight stays.

While at this moment we are at about 78 percent of overnight stays over the same period in the record-breaking 2019 and that fact is especially gratifying. This is the success of the entire tourism sector, namely the hard-working and high-quality tourism workers who through their dedicated work have made an exceptional contribution to the perception and position of our country as a quality, well-prepared and above all, safe tourist destination. In this sense, it is worth mentioning the exceptional contribution of travel agencies, through which almost 3 million arrivals and more than 17 million overnight stays were realized in Croatia during the first nine months.

The results that we have achieved, but also the experience that we all have gained during these two years give us optimism, strength and motivation for the years ahead. We have shown that we know how to respond quickly and adequately to the crisis and challenges, we have shown that in these circumstances we can host millions of foreign tourists, while maintaining the quality and safety of both our guests and our citizens.

The year 2022 is ahead of us, in which we will defend the position of Croatia as the safest and most successful tourist destination on the Mediterranean. We expect a strong contribution from travel agencies, especially agency employees, whom I would like to thank for their expertise and professionalism in contributing to very good tourism results this year.

About UHPA

Representing Travel Agents and Tour Operators for over 30 years

Founded in 1992, UHPA - or the Association of Croatian Travel Agencies, has grown to become Croatia's leading and most influential trade association, representing the professional interests of travel agents, tour operators and other tourism and business service providers.

For 30 years, UHPA has remained true to the mission and vision outlined by its founding members.

Today, UHPA members, over 230 travel agencies, tour and online operators, intermediaries and wholesalers, shoulder over 50% of the overall tourism turnover in Croatia. UHPA also represents over a 100 associate members hailing from the hospitality industry, transportation companies, tourist boards, associations, attractions, educational institutions and various other tourism suppliers.

Internationally, UHPA also stands for member interests. aligning itself with the world's most prominent tourism organizations and industry associations. UHPA is a member of ECTAA and nurtures long-standing reciprocal relationships with the most powerful European and non-European associations of travel agencies such as ABTTA, ACTA, AČCKA, ANVR, ASR, ASTA, ATTA, JATA, MUISZ, SACKA, SRF, YUTA and ZTAS.

UHPA has initiated and implemented, independently or in partnership with various professional associations in Great Britain, the Netherlands, Germany, Poland, Greece, Latvia, Bulgaria, Italy, Belgium, Montenegro, Slovenia and Croatia, a number of projects aimed at developing corporate social responsibility, innovative tourism products, strengthening competences, enhancing service and business operation quality and the competitiveness of its members.

UHPA is currently actively involved in drafting Croatia's Strategy for the Sustainable Development of Tourism 2030. We work closely with the Croatian Ministry of Tourism and Sport and the Croatian National Tourist Board on various other projects too. Our collaborations aim to increase the number of organized visits and overnight stays in the pre and post-season through the development of special interest market offers and the operation of destination management companies. These endeavours also make a point of promoting sustainable business models and the improvement of service quality. Additionally, UHPA obligates its members to a strict Code of Ethics, fulfilling its mission to contribute to the responsible development of Croatian tourism and ensuring Croatian travel agencies have that competitive edge.

Following the abrupt cease of travel last year and in light of the on-going health crisis, travel agents continue to operate under the pressure of strict health protocols and changing travel recommendations. In an effort to remedy the negative impacts of the pandemic, as an association with a long tradition of advocating for Croatian tourism, UHPA has been out-spoken about the position of struggling travel agents and their role in developing a more inclusive. sustainable and sound future of tourism.

After firmly defending the profession of travel agents and tour operators for 30 years, UHPA continues to pave the way toward progress in tourism, maintaining its position, relevance and strength. The UHPA office. with its six employees and a large number of external associates, is committed to fulfilling the association's purpose. We believe our activities shape the service quality of tourism products and contribute to the professional success of our members.

As an industry that runs on live, human contact and interaction, in a crisis such as the one upon us know - much like the one UHPA emerged from in the midst of an unfortunate war - we need to come together. We have seen it work before, and it will no doubt work again. We will rebuild, better and stronger, together.

It is with confidence that we therefore invite you to choose one of our active or associate members as your trusted business partners in Croatia.

There is no doubt that travel agents and tour operators are already playing a crucial role in recovering tourism flows. Being the first in line to communicate with endusers, they hold the keys to re-building consumer confidence in a way that not only restores their trust in the value chain, but also reduces the negative impacts of tourism on the environment and helps local communities grow. We at UHPA are strongly committed to supporting our members in developing this resiliency and we will continue to look for ways to raise their operating standards on that path. In doing so, UHPA contributes to building the overall quality of Croatian tourism and the strength of the country's

The implementation of the "Social Entrepreneurship in Tourism - An Innovative Voluntourism Product" project began on September 17th, 2020. Lead by Ventula Travel Ltd., the project is supported by partners: Association "MI" - Split, Aspira College - Split and the Association of Croatian Travel Agencies.

The total value of the project is 1.126.202.97 HRK and the grant is provided in part by the European Social Fund (85%) and in part by the Croatian government (15%). The duration of the project is 18 months.

The project is set to develop a sustainable tourism product, encourage the development of sustainable practices and contribute to improving the cooperation between for-profit, public and non-profit sectors in developing new vacation and travel concepts and increasing the employability of young, unemployed, highly educated people in a predominantly traditional region abundant in natural attractions and preserved surroundings.

Strengthening the Capacities of Social Entrepreneurs in Croatia

As a new way of doing business, social entrepreneurship is an area where entrepreneurial practices from the business world and values closely related to social responsibility and environmental principles overlap. Social entrepreneurship is defined as being a part of the broader economic system which includes entities primarily focused on meeting social goals and is characterized by a system of direct participation and management. Social entrepreneurship can make a significant contribution to achieving strategic goals, especially social cohesion, fighting poverty and increasing employment, creating new products, competitiveness, conserving resources, valuing heritage and biodiversity, and improving the quality of life through social welfare business.¹

Social entrepreneurship is becoming a growing phenomenon around the world and on the European economic scene, confirming its direct contribution to the economic development of the country by encouraging employment and social engagement of marginalized groups in business activities which aren't exclusively dedicated to making a profit, but provide secure jobs, social welfare and positive changes both to society and the environment. Unlike for-profit companies, social entrepreneurship is based on a triangle of goals: People - Planet - Profit (Cvitanović, 2018).

According to the Strategy for the Development of Social Entrepreneurship in the Republic of Croatia for the period from 2015-2020, social entrepreneurship is a business based on the principles of social, environmental and economic sustainability, in which the generated profit / surplus income is invested, as a whole or in part, to benefit the community. Social entrepreneurship is an innovative and creative entrepreneurial model for solving economic, social and environmental issues that encourages employment, social inclusion and sustainable development. As such, the aim of the call, under which the "Social Entrepreneurship in Tourism – An Innovative Voluntourism Product" project is funded, was to strengthen the capacities of existing and new social enterprises / social entrepreneurs.

Innovative voluntourism products

The development of voluntourism was encouraged by the emergence of an ever-growing subcategory of tourists interested in moving away from mass tourism and looking for more meaningful forms of travel. Thus, the combination of volunteering and tourism - voluntourism, has become a popular form of international travel, allowing volunteers to contribute to the sustainable development of the community they visit while exploring both new territories and cultures (Pavić Rogošić, 2017).

One definition of voluntourism says voluntourism represents a conscious, seamlessly integrated combination of volunteer services in a destination with traditional elements of travel and tourism: art, culture, history and recreation. In this sense, volunteers are given the opportunity to live and work in societies and cultures different from their own, while developing their understanding, social awareness and responsibility. Many develop new skills and form new friendships (Matošević Radić, Hrabar, Buzdovačić, 2017).

Voluntourism also offers new opportunities for tourism enterprises, especially travel agencies and tour operators, which can actively participate not only in the promotion and distribution but also in the creation of voluntourism products in partnership with local NGOs. This can provide them with access to a potentially large segment of volunteer consumers and ultimately position them as socially responsible businesses, with both the local community and their clients (Matošević Radić, Hrabar, Buzdovačić, 2017).

In developing quality voluntourism products, stakeholder partnerships between the public, private and non-profit sectors are essential. Through the "Social Entrepreneurship in Tourism - An Innovative Voluntourism Product" project a partnership was established between civil society organizations, educational institutions and travel agencies. Indeed, the involvement and cooperation of the local community and the local population is particularly important too. Their participation completes the voluntourism product and ensures its viability and long-term benefit for the local community. A voluntourism product will be created through this partnership, in line with the principles of social entrepreneurship and sustainable tourism development reflecting local traditions, culture and the needs of the communities in which the volunteer activities will be carried out.

Strengthening Capacities and Raising Awareness

In its first year of implementation, project activities were aimed at strengthening the capacities of persons involved in the project's implementation, strengthening the capacities and knowledge of young unemployed persons and students, informing target groups and the general public about the concept of voluntourism and social entrepreneurship and finally developing voluntourism products with which Ventula Travel DMC can enrich its offers.

In more precise terms, two workshop cycles were held for project partners. The first, dedicated to Ventula Travel DMC employees, provided the lead with mentoring on how to develop an organizational Code of Ethics and on considering their own path as social entrepreneurs. The second cycle of workshops pulled together all of the project partners and called not only on their individual strengths and capacities, but also the help of outside experts, to initiate a discussion about the values of the civil sector, inter-sectorial partnerships, social entrepreneurship, sustainable tourism and voluntourism.

An online, eight-day workshop cycle was held for young unemployed people, wherein a total of 37 people participated, of whom 18 were unemployed. The workshops covered the following topics through lectures and practical sessions: sustainable tourism, voluntourism, destination management, volunteering, volunteer program management, public-civil-private partnerships, social entrepreneurship and corporate social responsibility. Through each topic participants had the opportunity to hear about best practice examples and could develop their own ideas about volunteer programs and social entrepreneurial ventures through the practical sessions of the workshop.

In total, the first year of the project included two public presentations and one networking meeting with community stakeholders. One public presentation was held in the Department of Professional Studies of the University of Split, while the other was held in front of students at the Aspira University College. The aim of the public presentations was, and will continue to be, to inform the general public and those on the path to achieving a degree in tourism or aiming to work in tourism about the innovation of combining tourism and volunteering, i.e. leaving a long-lasting mark in the destination and contributing to its local community. A networking meeting was held with travel agency representatives in order to raise awareness among tourism related organizations about the need to create new experiences in tourism.

One way to strengthen the project team, in terms of gaining perspective and consolidating the accomplished partnership, was to organize a two-day study trip in 8/2021. The study trip took place in the Šibenik-Knin and Zadar counties, and was attended by representatives of all of the partner organizations with the aim of getting to know the involved associations and institutions whose values and work correspond with the values of social responsibility, sustainable tourism and the promotion of volunteering.

During their visit to the island of Murter, the project team met with representatives of local organisations - Argonauts, Latinsko Idro and the Murter branch of the Matica hrvatska. During the meeting, they discussed, among other things, the involvement of volunteers in the activities offered by local associations and the potential for partnerships between them.

The study trip continued in Biograd na Moru, where the project team met with representatives of the Vrana Lake Nature Park. First, the partners were introduced to the project which resulted in the establishment of the Center for Sustainable Active Tourism Biosphere Biograd by PP Vransko Lake, with the aim of bringing together local initiatives that offer innovative and sustainable tourism products and services. Furthermore, their representatives presented the volunteer and voluntourism programs offered by the Park and all those present discussed the ways in which Ventula Travel DMC can design and connect its programs in the future with the activities in the Nature Park. The project team also had the opportunity to visit the park itself, stopping at a park site while a representative of the Park acted as their guide. This way, the project team gained insight into the visitor experience at the park.

The last visit on the trip was reserved for the Terra Meera Center for Regeneration and Human Resources. The aim of this meeting was to discuss the practice of establishing and running a social enterprise, the values of social entrepreneurship and the possibilities of including the Center in voluntourism programs.

Developing Voluntourism Products

With the help of their project partners, Ventula Travel DMC developed two voluntourism products within this project. In spite of the challenging circumstances that the world, and especially tourism, faced in 2020 in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic and with global travel restrictions in place, corporate social responsibility has remained their priority.

In line with its practice and mission, Ventula Travel DMC decided to design two voluntourism products instead of just one. One of those products was designed as an upgrade to an existing package which included volunteering at an archaeological site in Salona under the patronage of the Faculty of Archaeology of the University of Zagreb. Within this arrangement, tourists were given the opportunity to participate in the excavations of the ancient Salona with expert guidance almost daily.

Additionally, the project also enabled local organizations from the Split-Dalmatia County to network and, for the first time ever, tourists had the opportunity to participate the users of the Srma association on International Day of the Elderly (October 1st). Getting to know the local population and sharing such experiences is invaluable to both voluntourists and their local counterparts because a rich cultural and emotional exchange occurs - a connection your typical travel arrangement simply lacks.

strengthen previous partnerships - such is the case with UHPA and the Association "MI" - Split, who executed the first voluntourism project of its type back in 2016 in a cross-border cooperation between Croatia and Montenegro. By combining the experience and knowledge of the private, public and civil sectors, it is possible to create and develop innovations that support (social) entrepreneurs, associations and other stakeholders with similar values. Voluntourism as such gives us the opportunity to make the most of the potential carried by our culture and tradition to help Croatia as a destination escape mass tourism by offering guests something more than just a typical vacation, equally relaxing, but educational, uplifting and memorable.

Croatia continues to provide amazing baute cuisine with new MICHELIN star restaurants

In September 2021 Croatia gained three more prestigious MICHELIN star restaurants. Namely, the restaurants Nebo (Rijeka), Alfred Keller (Mali Lošinj) and Agli Amici (Rovinj) were awarded with one MICHELIN star, while the restaurants Pelegrini (Šibenik), 360° (Dubrovnik), Monte (Rovinj), Noel (Zagreb), Draga di Lovrana (Lovran), Boškinac (Novalja) and LD Terrace (Korčula), kept their stars. Bringing the total number of MICHELIN star restaurants to 10.

A total of 78 restaurants in Croatia carry at least one designation in this prestigious gastronomic guide. This confirms the quality of Croatian gastronomy, which is one of the main motives for arrival for many travel enthusiasts around the world. The presence of our country in MICHELIN guides provides additional promotion and visibility, but also motivates us to make Croatia a prominent and internationally recognized eno-gastronomic destination.

The new edition of the MICHELIN guide for Croatia for 2021 also includes the new MICHELIN Green Star label, which was awarded to Zinfandel's restaurant (Zagreb). It is a label which is awarded to restaurants that are especially dedicated to gastronomy that is sustainable and environmentally friendly.

In addition to the new MICHELIN star restaurants, seven more restaurants were included on the Bib Gourmand list, including: Konoba Mate (Korčula), Dunav (Ilok), Konoba Fetivi (Split), Izakaya by Time (Zagreb), Vuglec Breg (Krapina), Konoba Malo Selo (Buje) and Alla Beccaccia (Valbandon). Thus, Croatia today boasts a total of 13 restaurants with this MICHELIN label, which is awarded to restaurants that offer quality menus at affordable prices.

Cycle, explore and experience Croatia!

Croatia has grown into a popular cycling destination, with numerous paths, trails and routes marked and promoted throughout the country.

Amongst some of the most wellknown is the EuroVelo 8 Mediterranean route. EuroVelo 8 takes you through the most beautiful parts of the Croatian Mediterranean coast and hinterland. You will meet a rich cultural and historical heritage that dates back the ancient era, enjoy the natural beauties and visit many locations listed as UNESCO World Heritage sites, such as Dubrovnik and Split.

Croatia's long and uneven coastline is dotted with over a thousand beautiful islands. Nature is everywhere and the colours bring together the beautiful landscapes. Large parts of the route pass directly along the coast, and the most attractive parts in the hinterland through the virgin areas of the most beautiful Croatian mountain and UNESCO biosphere reserve Velebit.

The EuroVelo8 Mediterranean route in Croatia, allows one to cycle along the Adriatic coast from Istria to Dubrovnik. The full length of the route is 1116 km, made up of 20 daily route sections from 40 to 60 km. There are also 8 alternative route sections. The route encompasses 8 UNESCO sites, 3 National Parks, 4 Nature Parks and 7 idyllic and mighty rivers.

More information on the route and individual sections may be found in both Croatian and English here at

GENERAL INFORMATION

Geographic position

Croatia occupies the largest part of the eastern coast of the Adriatic Sea which, as a part of the Mediterranean Sea, penetrates deep into the European continent. Croatia's shoreline and numerous islands fall within the majority of the Adriatic coastline. The narrow Dinara Mountain Range separates the country's Mediterranean region from its Central European continental part, which spans from the easterly edges of the Alps in the North-West to the shores of the Danube in the East, encompassing the southern part of the fertile Pannonian lowlands. In July 2013, Croatia became 28th member of the European Union.

Surface area

The mainland covers an area of 56,594 km² and coastal waters cover a surface area of 31,479 km². The coastline is 6,278 km long, of which 4,398 km is made up of island coastlines, solitary rocks and reefs

Population

Croatia has 4,207,165 inhabitants.

Demographics

The majority of the population are Croats, with the largest minorities being Serbs, Bosniaks, Slovenes, Hungarians, Czechs, Italians and Albanians

System of government

Croatia is a multi-party parliamentary republic.

Canital

With 792,875 inhabitants, Zagreb is the economic, transport, cultural and academic centre of the country.

Number of islands, islets, solitary rocks and reefs

1,244. The largest island is Cres (405.7 km²), the highest island is Brač (Vidova Gora peak at 778 m), the most indented island is Pag, the longest island is Hvar and the most inhabited is Krk. There are 50 inhabited islands.

Highest peak Dinara, 1,831 m above sea level.

USEFUL INFORMATION

Travel documents

Your trip to Croatia doesn't mean visa headaches. In most cases, the only form of ID required is a valid passport. And if you're an EU or US citizen, your national ID card will do, too. For more information, please reach any of our diplomatic missions and consular offices abroad or visit the website of the Ministry of Foreign and European Affairs of the Republic of Croatia.

Information: Diplomatic missions and consular offices of the Republic of Croatia abroad or the Ministry of Foreign and European Affairs of the Republic of Croatia (Tel: +385 1 4569 964, e-mail: konzularni.poslovi@mvep.hr; vize@mvep.hr; www.mvep.hr)

Customs regulations

Customs regulations in the Republic of Croatia are almost entirely in keeping with EU regulations and standards, however the value of tax-exempt non-commercial items that are brought into the country for personal use is limited to 1,000 HRK (kuna). Both foreign and Croatian citizens who reside abroad may freely bring foreign and local currency and cheques in and out of the country however transfers of 10,000 euros or more must be declared to a customs official. Valuable professional equipment and other technical devices must also be declared to a customs official when crossing the border. VAT is refunded to anyone without a permanent or temporary residence in Croatia on individual goods purchased in the country for amounts in excess of 740.00 HRK (Kuna), upon the presentation of a Tax Free Form verified by a customs official during the export of the purchased goods, up to three months from the day of purchase. Foreign nationals must claim tax refunds within six months of the issue of the receipt. For additional information, please contact the Croatian Customs Administration: www.carina.hr.

In order to shorten the procedure at the border crossing point, we advise you to fill the announcement in advance at https://entercroatia. mup.hr

Health services

There are hospitals and clinics located in all larger towns and cities, while smaller settlements have dispensaries and pharmacies only. Foreign visitors who are covered by health insurance in their own country are not obliged to pay for emergency medical services during a private stav in the Republic of Croatia if a convention on Social Security has been signed between Croatia and the visitors' country of origin, i.e. if they have in their possession a certificate stipulated by such a convention confirming their right to health care. For further information, please contact Croatian Health Insurance Fund (HZZO).
