Foreword

Dear colleagues and associates,

A comprehensive who's-who and an inevitable outlet for promoting both Croatia and the Association of Croatian Travel Agencies (UHPA), the UHPA Directory has become an international staple for travel professionals no matter the occasion. Whether you are looking for sector go-to contacts, appreciating our selection of sleek destinations or familiarizing yourself with country profile specifics, the 23rd UHPA Directory has it all.

The travel industry in 2022 was met with an urgent demand for travel after a two year slow-down on the one hand and devastated by an unfolding global conflict – and more uncertainty, on the other. Needless to say, crafting travel arrangements and pursuing recovery in circumstances of looming inflation and fickle supply, has been agonizing for travel organizers this year. I am sure many in the field have now – if not during the worst of the pandemic, questioned their will to continue doing business under so much pressure. Yet, most of us continue to adapt, to do our best, counting on good sense and reason to prevail. Perhaps because as travel professionals we understand the human need to connect better than others – or are too invested in rebuilding the travel industry the way we planned. Whatever the reason, ours is a trade that continues to withstand.

UHPA has defended member interests in these trying times, maintaining our role in bringing to light their realities, participating in official initiatives to strength the global, universal strength of tourism and working on alleviating the weaknesses magnified by the on-going crisis. Our focus is still on innovation and shaping the future of our profession, leaving behind broken processes and failed practices, and instead introducing new, functional ones. We at UHPA are strongly committed to building a more resilient and sustainable tourism, relying on individual strengths coming together as one to bring about a better tomorrow globally.

There is point I like making to no end, sincerely – no one knows Croatia better than UHPA. Our members craft an enviable number of services and products into unique experiences by combining our country's exceptional diversity with the interests of well-meaning individuals for its rich history, culture, and abundant natural beauty. As such, we remain master travel artisans and UHPA will continue to look for ways to build bridges and form new partnerships. It is our understanding of human nature and a trade prerogative – to connect and to rebuild.

I sincerely hope this edition of our UHPA Directory brings you a little closer to our country and to working with Croats, your trusted travel artisans. We wish you all peace, good health and a world of success in the coming year!

A STAR ALLIANCE MEMBER

Foreword

Dear colleagues from the travel and tourism industry,

It is my pleasure to greet you on behalf of the Croatian Ministry of Tourism and Sport in the 23rd edition of the UHPA Directory.

During 2022, more than 18 million tourists visited Croatia, tourist traffic reaching similar results as pre-pandemic year 2019.

In the years ahead, we want to continue building the successful story of Croatian tourism, based on preservation and valorisation of our beautiful nature and rich historical and cultural heritage, authentic atmosphere, locally grown food, gastronomy and wines.

This year we are adopting the national Strategy for Development of Sustainable Tourism until 2030, which defines four strategic goals that apply equally to all stakeholders in tourism: year-round and regionally balanced tourism; tourism with preserved environment, space and climate; competitive and innovative tourism and resilient tourism.

We have also secured funding to support the strategic goals of sustainable tourism; grants for public and private investments through the Recovery and Resilience Plan, and additional funding from the current European Multiannual Financial Framework.

Investments in Croatian tourism are geared towards the digital and green transition, improving the quality of accommodation and attractions, with a special focus on health and active tourism, and other special forms of tourism, which can attract guests throughout the year.

In 2023, Croatia will celebrate its 10th anniversary of joining the European Union, but also finalize important European integration processes by joining the Schengen and euro area. This will remove currency exchange costs and simplify travel to Croatia, making it an even closer destination for tourists from Europe and all around the world, thus further increasing its competitiveness and potential for development in the future.

We greatly appreciate our partnership with tour operators and travel agencies, whose expertise and enthusiasm in presenting comprehensive packages to showcase the best of Croatia are important elements in building a more sustainable model of tourism.

We look forward to continuing our excellent cooperation with the aim of positioning Croatia as a leader in sustainable tourism.

Dear colleagues and dear tourism industry employees,

On behalf of the Croatian National Tourist Board it is my great pleasure to welcome you to the 23rd edition of the UHPA Directory.

Despite the many ongoing challenges we faced this year, which significantly affected not only us, but also global tourism trends, I am extremely happy to say that we surpassed the goals set at the beginning of this year. The main summer season exceeded our expectations, and the post-season is also going very well, which once again confirmed Croatia's status as one of the most successful Mediterranean destinations. This is also confirmed by the eVisitor data, according to which we have recorded over 103 million overnight stays so far this year, which means we achieved a high 96 percent of the overnight stays compared to the record breaking 2019. These great accomplishments are the success of the entire tourism sector and all the industry workers who created all the necessary preconditions for achieving such good results with their high-quality of service and work.

Travel agencies also significantly contributed to this, through which more than 25 million overnight stays have been achieved in our country to date. This represents a very high 82 percent of the results, compared to the same period in 2019. Such a wave of success and experience creates further optimism and motivation for the upcoming 2023, which will also be very challenging. Next year will also be marked by the implementation of the new Strategy for Development of Sustainable Tourism until 2030, as well as the new Strategic Marketing and Operational Plan for Croatian tourism for the period through 2026, for which the main frameworks were presented at this year's Croatian Tourism Days held in Šibenik.

We must all work together in the future to position Croatia as a sustainable high value destination, meaning a destination with authentic and high-quality tourist experiences, which we can achieve by continuously emphasizing the true beauty of our country and the high value of the overall Croatian tourist offer. Special emphasis must also be placed on sustainability, digitalisation and further strengthening of the Croatian tourism brand.

This said, I am sure that both agencies and the whole of Croatian tourism will have another successful year ahead, a year during which Croatia will grow in terms of quality, sustainability and digitalization.

About UHPA

Representing Travel Agents and Tour Operators for over 30 years

Founded in 1992, UHPA - or the Association of Croatian Travel Agencies, has grown to become one of Croatia's leading and most influential trade associations, representing the professional interests of travel agents, tour operators and other tourism and business service providers.

For over 30 years, UHPA has remained true to the mission and vision outlined by its founding members.

Today, UHPA members, over 210 travel agencies, tour and online operators, intermediaries and wholesalers, shoulder a significant share of the overall tourism turnover in Croatia. UHPA also represents over 90 associated members hailing from the hospitality industry, transportation companies, tourist boards, associations, attractions, educational institutions and various other tourism suppliers.

Internationally, UHPA also stands for member interests, aligning itself with the world's most prominent tourism organizations and industry associations. UHPA is a member of ECTAA and nurtures long-standing reciprocal relationships with the most powerful European and non-European associations of travel agencies such as ABTTA, ACTA, AČCKA, ANVR, ASR, ASTA, ATTA, APAVT, JATA, MUISZ, SACKA, SMAL, SRF, YUTA and ZTAS.

UHPA has initiated and implemented, independently or in partnership with various professional associations in Great Britain, the Netherlands, Germany, Portugal, Finland, Poland, Greece, Latvia, Bulgaria, Italy, Belgium, Montenegro, Slovenia and Croatia, a number of projects aimed at developing corporate social responsibility, innovative tourism products, strengthening competences, enhancing service and business operation quality and the competitiveness of its members.

UHPA actively participated in drafting Croatia's Strategy for Development of Sustainable Tourism until 2030. We continue to work closely with the Croatian Ministry of Tourism and Sport and the Croatian National Tourist Board on various other projects too. Our collaborations aim to increase the number of organized visits and overnight stays in the pre and post-season through the development of special interest market offers and the operation of destination management companies. These endeavours also make a point of promoting sustainable business models and the improvement of service quality. Additionally, UHPA obligates its members to a strict Code of Ethics, fulfilling its mission to contribute to the responsible development of Croatian tourism and ensuring Croatian travel agencies have that competitive edge.

Following the two-year health crisis and travel slow-down, with the unfolding global conflict and all of its messy ramifications, travel agents continue to operate under the pressure of uncertainty – of changing protocols, wavering supply chain dynamics and rising operational costs. In an effort to alleviate some of these strains, as an association with a long tradition of advocating for Croatian tourism, UHPA has been instrumental in providing support to members and in bolstering sustainability as a means of dealing not just with the on-going crisis but with the imminent threat of climate change to our industry and planet too.

As we have seen, travel agents and tour operators are essential to recovering tourism flows. Being the first in line to communicate with end-users, they hold the keys to re-building consumer confidence in a way that not only restores their trust in the value chain, but also reduces the negative impacts of tourism on the environment and helps local communities grow. We at UHPA are strongly committed to supporting our members in developing this resiliency and we will continue to look for ways to raise their operating standards on that path. In doing so, UHPA contributes to building the overall quality of Croatian tourism and the strength of the country's economy.

After firmly defending the profession of travel agents and tour operators for over 30 years, UHPA continues to pave the way toward progress in tourism, maintaining its position, relevance and strength. The UHPA office, with its six employees and a large number of external associates, is committed to fulfilling the association's purpose. We believe our activities shape the service quality of tourism products and contribute to the professional success of our members.

As an industry that runs on live, human contact and interaction, in a crisis such as the one upon us know - much like the one UHPA emerged from in the midst of an unfortunate war - we need to come together. We have seen it work before, and it will no doubt work again. We will rebuild, better and stronger, together.

It is with confidence that we therefore invite you to choose one of our active or associated members as your trusted business partners in Croatia.

UHPA Activities

They say time is the most valuable thing a man can spend. Just over a decade ago, as an esteemed national tourism trade association, through a number of different initiatives in a truly ground breaking manner, UHPA set out to sharpen the focus of travel agencies in Croatia on building sustainable operations, positioning special interest tourism products and implementing quality management procedures. In retrospect, UHPA spent the better part of the past decade on building value.

To UHPA pushing for quality always made sense

The challenges facing travel agents and tour operators now only underline the importance of those elementary convictions, of that vision. Always with an eye on the latest industry trends, UHPA has worked to enhance member capacities by organising workshops and training programs, principally with the support of the Ministry of Tourism and Sport and the Croatian National Tourist Board, but also independently through national and EU-level tenders.

Recognizing that UHPA members, Croatia's top tour operators and travel agents, are directly involved in creating, managing and developing Croatia's tourism offer, our projects have, without exception, been dedicated to promoting service excellence and reliability. Upholding professionalism on all fronts – particularly in motivating travel sector personnel to attain additional qualifications, learn new skills and share best practices, plays into this ceaseless mission. Having adopted the UNWTO Global Code of Ethics in 2014, UHPA has committed its time and energy to the highest standards of corporate social responsibility with the aim of promoting sustainable tourism, with emphasis on the protection of human and labour rights, the environment and on limiting corruption.

In project terms, over the years our project activities have placed emphasis on: developing new tourism products (DMC support programs), on curbing seasonality (special interest tourism development, segment dedicated and cross-border), on promoting corporate social responsibility (sustainability practices, social entrepreneurship, voluntourism initiatives, the Travelife scheme), on quality management (multi-site ISO certification), on the importance of social dialogue and networking (bringing together Croatia's tourism trade associations)...

When summed up, these years add up to 15 successfully implemented projects on a wide variety of topics and just as many instrumental partnerships. You could describe us as a team of seasoned project professionals interested in pursuing new ideas and – above all, on building on a decade of indispensable value.

Thank you for taking away from your time to acquaint yourself with our work in this 23rd edition of the UHPA Directory, exactly 30 years from when UHPA was established.

Project Introduction

SUSTOUR is a project co-financed by the European Commission under the COSME programme (Program for the Competitiveness of Small and Medium Enterprises) that aims to foster the capacities and skills of 175+ travel agents and tour operators (SME's) to integrate sustainability principles within their companies and supply chains. It does so by providing support through training, management systems, standards and solutions, which will improve their sustainable management and performance as well as open up new market opportunities.

The most important objective of the SUSTOUR project is to develop and/or update existing standards and training tools to effectively implement, remotely and in person, sustainability within tour operator operations and in their supply chain. Key focus areas will be the management of carbon emissions and plastic waste, where there is a considerable impact on the environment from the travel sector. Specific tools will be developed for the carbon management of (shore) excursions.

Moreover, the project will provide free technical support to travel agents and tour operators (SME's) interested in improving their sustainability performance.

Objectives and activities

1. To update existing standards, training and (online) implementation tools to effectively implement sustainability within tour operators and their supply chain. A group of 45 advisors and auditors from 12 different countries will be trained and certified.
2. To develop standards, trainings, tools, and criteria to reduce and better manage carbon and plastics, two of the key environmental impacts of the travel sector. Specific tools will be developed for the carbon management of (shore) excursions.
3. To engage and build capacities of a critical number of SME tour operators through a blended training approach (classroom training, online, webinar, video seminars). 175+ SME's will be selected to benefit from the wider direct financial support programme.
4. To coach 120 tour operators towards complying with 100+ best practices through onsite, group and distance coaching. Companies will develop detailed sustainability report.
5. To evaluate and certify tour operators independently based on international standards. As a result, it is expected that 120 tour operators will obtain the basic Travelife Partner award and 60 tour operators will receive the Travelife Certified award, of which at least 10+ EMAS registrations.
6. To develop and implement a methodology and online tool for the sustainability certification of excursions by involving excursion suppliers including (local) transport, activities (e.g. boating, diving, city tours), food and guiding services. They will be implemented in practice among 150+ excursions involving the assessment of 2.000 tour operator suppliers.
7. To create market linkages and related financial benefits for the supported SME's and to disseminate the project results to the wider travel sector via the networks of project partners.
8. To facilitate an effective implementation of SUSTOUR involving all project partners and external stakeholders leading to the planned impact, outcome and output of the SUSTOUR project and to report in detail on the results and impact of the financial support provided.

Project Activities

SME Support Call

A call for SME support was launched on March 10th 2022 to select a minimum of 175 travel agents and tour operators to benefit from a comprehensive technical support programme and improve their sustainability performance. More than 730 applications were submitted and, after a thorough selection process, 627 SME's from 35 countries were selected in June to participate in the support programme. Among them are 12 Croatian travel agencies and tour operators.

Participating companies were given the choice between obtaining support towards Travelife certification or support in terms of improving specific areas, such as carbon, plastic and supply chain management or certification of their shore excursions. The technical support programme was put in motion in July 2022 and will run until June next year, providing SME's with innovative online trainings, multi-day classroom trainings, intensive coaching (group and individual) as well as peer-to-peer learning – all under the guidance of hand-picked experts in the field of sustainable tourism management.

Introduction Training

The Travelife Introduction Training for Croatian SME's under the SUSTOUR project was held in Zagreb on the 27th and 28th of September 2022. The two-day training is one in a series of foreseen activities within the technical support program on the SUSTOUR project. In addition to acquiring basic knowledge and skills about the Travelife system, the training was also an opportunity to exchange ideas, experiences and best practices in the field of sustainability.

As the technical organizer of the event, UHPA assigned Ana-Marija Vrtodušić Hrgović, PhD, an associate professor at the Faculty of Management in Tourism and Hospitality in Opatija, to conduct the two-day training, drawing from her extensive experience as a licensed Travelife educator and auditor.

Association Study Tour

Various events will be organised in conjunction with upcoming European trade fairs during 2023 to allow the selected travel companies to exchange experiences and best practices and to award those companies who successfully reach certification through the SUSTOUR project.

One such event was held on the 10th and 11th of November 2022 in Amersfoort (The Netherlands). The meeting brought together national tour operator associations and SME representatives from Austria, Croatia, Finland, Netherlands, Portugal, Slovakia, and Sweden to hear about best practices from ANVR members and their association heads. Attendees were able to discuss and share insights on effective strategies surrounding sustainability, as well as identify key priorities at a European and national level.

A list of travel companies successfully enrolled in the SUSTOUR technical support programme is available online via the SUSTOUR website.

Promoting Croatia in 2022

In 2022, the Croatian National Tourist Board launched promotional campaigns that were present in online and offline media throughout the year. Some especially stood out for their success and uniqueness. At the time of print, three have already been completed, one is underway, and one is being prepared for Advent. This year's campaigns emphasized rural Croatia, exploring lesser-known areas and their peculiarities. After a period of lockdown and restrictions resulting from the pandemic, the campaigns again focussed on the primary season and the opportunities provided by staying in Croatia. Since autumn is a time of year that is especially rich in flavours, smells, and colours, a campaign was also launched on social networks that emphasizes the magic and beauty of autumn in Croatia.

1. "Experience local. Explore rural Croatia!"

After the excellent promotional results achieved during last year's implementation of the national campaign "Experience local. Explore rural Croatia!", The Croatian National Tourist Board, in cooperation with the Ministry of Tourism and Sports, continues. This year with activities to promote the diverse offer of Croatian rural destinations with a focus on the domestic market. Thus, as part of the first wave of this year's campaign, from May to the end of July and included seven thematic videos, all the exciting facts of rural destinations around the areas of Zadar, Varaždin, the area of Split-Dalmatia County, the stretch from Bilogora to Zagreb, Podravina, Šibenik, and Knin, as well as Gorski Kotar, were highlighted.

#RuralCroatia

Interesting video materials aimed to promote this product that offers the possibility of rest in pure nature, but also homegrown food, unique experiences, indigenous experiences, and quality service. The campaign was conducted via online and offline communication channels and through the Croatia Full of Life social media networks with the tags #RuralCroatia and #ExperienceLocal. The campaign was initiated by the Ministry of Tourism and Sports along with the Croatian Rural Tourism Association and was implemented in cooperation with the cultural and adventure tourism and family accommodation sections of the Croatian Chamber of Economy.

2. “Your Life, Your Time, Your Experience”

In July, the Croatian National Tourist Board launched its brand campaign “Your Life, Your Time, Your Experience” across 14 markets. It aimed to promote the high season. The campaign was implemented in Germany, Slovenia, Austria, Italy, Poland, the United Kingdom, the Czech Republic, Hungary, France, the Netherlands, Slovakia, Sweden, Switzerland, and Belgium.

This campaign was launched on social networks, outdoor advertising on billboards, digital panels, and public transport. Moreover, activities were carried out on the most watched TV channels, and the most read portals and newspapers in each market.

Tourist products advertised through the campaign were specially adjusted to the preferences of each market, i.e., these are the most common motives for coming to Croatia. For example, in addition to the sun and the sea, culture and nautical were especially emphasized on the French market, nature and active holidays in Poland, camping in the Netherlands, eno-gastronomy and nautical in Sweden, etc.

Croatia, naturally yours

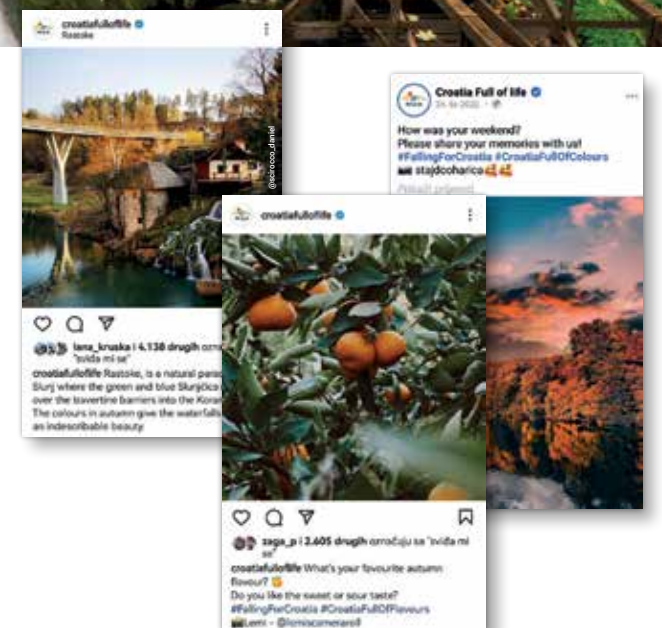

A special sustainability label was highlighted throughout the campaign - Croatia, naturally yours. The logo's shape represents the rings of a tree, i.e., the harmony and interweaving of blue and green Croatia through sustainable tourism.

3. “Falling for Croatia”

The Autumn promotional campaign “Falling for Croatia” on social networks Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter with the hashtags #FallingForCroatia and #BestFallCroatiaBucketList lasts through November. The campaign was conceived as a kind of autumn guide through the destinations and activities Croatia offered this year. The main goals were to encourage tourist traffic in the post-season and maintain Croatia's visibility on in-bound markets after the excellent results achieved during the main summer part of the season.

Autumn is the ideal time of year for culture, wine, gastronomy, nautical, active tourism, and nature. With the message that autumn is the year in which Croatia, especially it's continental regions and hinterland, can be experienced in a new and magical way, this campaign covered as many as 90 products and destinations, from the interior of Istria and Gorski Kotar, through Međimurje and Hrvatski Zagorje and to Slavonia and Baranja. At the same time, the activities that were highlighted were tours of national and nature parks and visits to traditional and cultural events on the continent. Additionally, cycling or walking along marked trails, tasting numerous eno-gastronomic delicacies, participating in grape harvests, olive or tangerine, and much more.

4. “Peace of Mind”

The role of this campaign is to showcase Croatia’s aspirational offering of all-inclusive luxury, mindful and cultural retreats. Through a series of creative assets, we’ll promote shoulder season travel, bridging the gap between autumn and winter, showcasing that travel to Croatia is effortless, meaning they can spend more time focusing on what they love.

- The first aim of this campaign is to showcase Croatia’s luxury, wellness, culture & variety of offerings to inspire consumers to find Peace of Mind in Croatia.
- The second aim is to reinforce messaging that Croatia is a year-round destination, with plenty of opportunity in Autumn and Winter.

It will encourage consumers to invest in themselves through travel and find peace of Mind in Croatia, whether through relaxation, wellness, fine dining, or being out in nature.

From the great outdoors and fine dining to relaxing wellness experiences, it’s time to invest in yourself through travel.

5. Advent and #CroatiaFullOfMagic

From the end of November and the whole of December it is time for Christmas magic. This campaign on social media channels will show the best of Croatian Christmas markets. This campaign will be created on social media channels, and it will encourage users on social media to share their advent experience from Croatian Christmas markets and winter experiences share them on social media with the hashtag #CroatiaFullOfMagic

New strategy

A new tourism promotional strategy for 2023 through 2026 has been initiated and will be rolled out. This strategy follows the overarching tourism strategy for Croatia through 2030. Croatia will be a competitive, innovative and safe country with a recognizable identity and culture, a land of preserved resources, quality living conditions, and equal opportunities for all.

Here are some goals of the new strategy:

- Respecting the natural and cultural heritage and unique identity of all regions, we will create sustainable year-round tourism desirable for investment, work, and life, contributing to Croatia’s harmonious economic development.

- Sustainable tourism development in the Republic of Croatia aims to raise the local population’s quality of life and work and the economic and social progress of Croatian society as a whole.
- The critical feature of Croatia as a tourist destination is its authenticity reflected by its hospitable, open, and cordial people, the diversity of its regions, and its rich natural and cultural heritage.

This strategy will impact promotion and campaigns in 2023, too. The promotional campaigns in the coming period will align with the outlined goals.

Welcome to the Bjelovar-Bilogora County

Marcel Medak
Director

Just as the beating heart is concealed by the body, so is this county hidden in central Croatia, whose very name conceals the word bilo (cro. beat) as a silent and permanent beat of life

From wherever your journey brings you, when you get to our region, the open, hospitable Bilogorans and Moslavinians, as well as their well-kept outdoors, will give you the warmest of welcomes. If you start by exploring the cities, Bjelovar will delight you with its even layout, Daruvar with its hot baths that date back to Roman times, Garešnica with its surrounding hunting estates, Čazma with its rich past, and Grubišno Polje with its small town serenity and charm. Between these cities lay smaller municipal areas and villages located on hills from which church towers rise illuminated by the sun.

Forests that have been around for centuries, spacious and fruitful fields, blooming meadows with streams, creeks and lowland rivers will greet you gladly. There are fish-rich ponds, lakes and hunting estates where the most diverse game, small and big, lives. Three mountains beat in the green heart of our region: Moslavačka gora, Papuk and Bilogora. Whether you decide to explore on foot, by bicycle, by car, or even on horseback, every choice is a good one because you can rest and enjoy your natural surroundings by stopping at various picnic spots, wine roads and small family farms.

Be sure not to miss the tastes of local delicacies: flour soup, cabbage pie, cheese fritters - Kvargli or delicious poppy seed makovnjača.

Welcome to Brod and Posavina County

Ružica Vidaković
Director

In Slavonia, the time of measuring one's wealth by the thickness of one's oak or bacon left a lasting mark on our cultural, traditional and gastronomic habits, cherished to this day

The appeal of our county, which lies entirely on the Sava River and is predominantly a rural area of ambient villages and just two towns, Slavonski Brod and Nova Gradiška, is that all of its destinations can be reached quickly. Eco-ethnic villages, ranches, salaš estates and various family farms are real discoveries for rural tourism lovers.

Once guards and keepers of the border, as evidenced by the magnificent Baroque Fortress in Slavonski Brod, today the residents of Brod and Posavina County are known as the guardians of heritage. The famous Croatian writer Ivana Brlić-Mažuranić, lived and worked here, and in her renovated house on the Korzo in Slavonski Brod, right on the Sava, an attractive Interpretation Center named after her, is open for visitors.

Most of the Brod and Posavina County can be explored by bike, while the new Adrenaline Forest in the municipality of Bebrina, located next to ponds and the protected Jelas polja area, is not to be missed by nature and outdoor activity lovers.

Finally, have you ever had čuptet meatballs from Cernik? This original finger food is a baked dough with sausage filling and is only on offer in Cernik near Nova Gradiška. To taste more exquisite dishes, choose restaurants with the label Okusi graničarskog Posavlja.

Let the salaš life bring you closer to the wealth of heritage, nature and tastes of Slavonia

Denis Ivošević
Director

Istria, the largest peninsula on the Adriatic, offers a myriad of ways to engage with nature and explore new locations with magnificent views of picturesque landscapes

As a result of a number of forward-thinking activities, in recent years Istria has bolstered its green credentials as an eco-friendly destination. Located predominantly on the seaside, 25 hotels have become Travelife Gold Award certified. Istria also has 9 eco campsites while 45 family-run accommodation units comply with the highest green standards of the Eco Domus programme.

Immerse yourself in the history of the peninsula by visiting its beautiful monuments, among them the Pula Arena and the Euphrasian Basilica in Poreč. Welcome to Split-Dalmatia County

Ivana Vladović
Director

A place on the Mediterranean where hedonism is not some story but a way of life, where everyone understands the true value of nature and heartfelt connection

Since ancient times, this region was the choice residence of emperors and kings, where they indulged in the beauty of its nature, the warmth of its sea, its culture, flawless wines and lavish meals. To this day, Dalmatia evokes the very same smells, tastes and experiences and those impressions last a lifetime.

Each moment spent in Dalmatia will be extraordinary – setting sail to any one of the islands and absorbing the azure of the Blue Cave or strolling the same stone-paved streets Diocletian once walked. The very same stone clads the many UNESCO protected archaeological sites here, it was used by the great sculptor Meštrović and by local communities to build traditional homes.

And then – taste magic: beckoning you on the coastline the likes of our brudet, gregada, seafood gradele, salted sardines, pašticada and wild greens, and more inland, traditional spreads which have nourished local heroes through the ages – Dalmatian pršut, steamed veal, roast lamb... Finish off with some sweet treats of times past – rafioli, rožata, hrapoćuša... and pair it all with a glass of fine Dalmatian wine. Take your pick – from Pošip and Vugava to Crljenik and Plavac mali.

No matter the time of year, a visit to Dalmatia is always full of beauty and surprise. Whether you are only after the sound of the sea and the smell of the pines, or want to explore the paths of Biokovo, or follow in the footsteps of Roman soldiers or hear about the fairies of the Red and Blue Lakes.

And best of all – everyone is invited! People who love life, respect tradition and appreciate beauty.

Dalmatia – the heart of the Adriatic close to the heart

Say YES! and embark on an exciting adventure in a region with stunning nature and clear seas, where a wide range of activities and authentic local experiences of culture and gastronomy await you

Mihaela Kadija
Managing Director

The Zadar region is geographically located in the very centre of the Croatian side of the Adriatic, surrounded by diverse settings and landscapes. UNESCO protected and home to the Sea Organ and the Sun Salutation, the city of Zadar with its rich history is often the starting point of visits to the region since it is exceptionally accessible and well connected.

Within just an hour's drive from Zadar, one can explore hundreds of islands stunning mountain ranges, karst rivers and canyons, tranquil lakes, and picturesque Dalmatian towns. Paklenica National Park and three nature parks – Vransko Lake, Telašćica on the island of Dugi otok and Velebit, with its impressive Cerovac Caves, which represent the largest cave system in Croatia, are all located in the Zadar region. All of the parks offer various amenities, activities and tours – from cycling, hiking, adrenaline grounds, bird watching, kayaking, rock climbing, to name just a few.

This is a region not to be missed by foodies – famous lamb and cheese from Pag island. Our warmest recommendation for numerous other delicacies – season with some local olive oil and a grain of pristine, locally hand - cropped sea salt. Perfection.

Our region has a wide variety of quality accommodation facilities available – from heritage hotels, campsites to private accommodation, in addition to numerous marinas and harbours, all of which meet the specific needs of guests, for all occasions.

Welcome to Zagreb

On the matter of impressions – Zagreb conquers hearts at first sight

Zagreb's history spans a thousand years, with social upheavals and famous victories, noted individuals and significant events, each of which have left their mark on the present-day face of the city. A mix of diverse historical heritage and contemporary European trends, of traditional eating and international cuisine, of tranquillity and bustle... Zagreb is a city whose energy charms your soul.

A city of countless landmarks and legends, Zagreb has several extraordinary museums to visit, from those centred around illusions and broken relationships, to those more grandiose, like the beautiful Museum of Contemporary Art. Every building is a story for itself and life here flows slow, occasionally speeding up just like the iconic blue Zagreb tram.

As part of an itinerary or just in passing, delight in the greenery of the romantic feel of city parks, of the Botanical Garden or the Medvednica nature park with its fresh mountain air. Do not miss the astounding view of the city after taking the cable car to Sljeme.

Zagreb's gastro story begins on the famous Dolac market where the city's culinary masters stock up on the freshest and tastiest local produce for a wide variety of Croatian and international dishes. A combination of meticulously chosen ingredients, skilful hands and a sprinkle of passion – the only possible end - result is pure joy.

Become a part of Zagreb's špica while slowly sipping a cup of some fine, warm coffee as you delight in gazing at strolling passers-by. Relax – the rhythm of this city will adjust.

Let Zagreb's energy charm your soul

Welcome to Zagreb County

Ivana Alilović
Director

Within reach of the Capital, our gentle landscapes and breath-taking scenery will impress any time of the year - gorgeous in every colour

Zagreb County will exceed all your expectations. Each of its three wine roads has its surprises. Plešivica will treat your taste buds to top quality sparkling wines, natural wines, as well as amphora wines. Samobor is the home of the Bermet, a bittersweet wine, while the Zelina Wine Road is an area dominated by Kraljevina, the indigenous and most widespread wine sort of the Prigorje region.

When you visit Rude and taste the first protected gastronomic product of our county – the miner's greblica, you will understand that you are in a region of culinary treats. Playing into this is a Turopolje forest treat – the Turopolje truffle, besides appearing on the menus of local restaurants, is occasionally also found on the menu of the indigenous Turopolje pig.

Within the vicinity of Ivanić-Grad, you will find another rare natural resource – naphthenic oil from which naphthalene mineral oil is distilled. Marco Polo himself wrote about the health benefits of this mineral oil and even today, it is used in the Naftalan spa.

In order to make your stay in our county complete, we invite you to round off your visit with a stay in one of the traditional Turopolje wooden houses or a modern holiday villa, and end your day by the fireplace with a romantic truffle dinner or just by watching the sunset, a glass of premium regional wine in hand.

Toast to sharing unforgettable experiences
